Dear Mr. Singh,

Thank you for writing to Axis Bank.

This is with reference to your email dated 21-01-2026 in relation to the unauthorized transaction on your Axis AMEX Privilege Credit Card account ending with 6559.

The reference number for this interaction is 260121219966.

We regret the inconvenience caused and appreciate your patronage. We endeavor to make your banking relationship with us as comfortable as possible.

Transaction Narration:

22/01/2026 21/01/2026 Billdesk*AMAZON,MUM 3709877619 105,766.00 DB

Following a thorough investigation into your complaint, it has been determined that the above disputed e-commerce transaction conducted via your credit card account was processed through a secure channel. This transaction was authenticated using a One-Time Password (OTP), which is sent exclusively to your registered mobile number ending with 2051. Furthermore, transaction required credit card credentials—including the card number, expiry date, and CVV—which are confidential and known only to the cardholder.

It is important to note that OTP-based transaction cannot be completed unless all the required confidential details are entered correctly. This indicates that the individual executing this transaction possessed the necessary information. Axis Bank bears no liability for any loss or damage resulting from the customer's failure to safeguard their confidential information, as outlined in the terms of service.

Given that this transaction was conducted securely with OTP verification, we are unable to accept your claim of fraudulent activity. Consequently, we regret to inform you that we cannot process a refund for the disputed amount.

We advise you to escalate this matter to the appropriate police authorities. Please provide them with any relevant details regarding how, when, and to whom you may have inadvertently disclosed your confidential information. Axis Bank will fully cooperate with the police and provide all necessary information to aid in their investigation.

We request you to make the payment towards the statement generated for the month of February 2026 to avoid any accrual of charges on your credit card account.

The Bank's stance in the matter has been reviewed and approved by the Bank's Internal Ombudsman.

In case you are still not satisfied with the resolution provided, you may approach the Banking Ombudsman for redressal of your complaint by logging into the appended link:
