Grievance Type :	Complaint
Grievance Details :	I am writing to seek an independent review and resolution regarding an unauthorized debit of INR 1,05,766 on my Axis Bank Credit Card ending with XX 7619 (now currently active card ending with is XX 6559) that occurred on January 21, 2026. This transaction is currently the subject of an active Cybercrime Report (Ack No: 31901260016169) and a registered police complaint. I am raising this grievance to request an evaluation of two specific operational discrepancies regarding this dispute: 1. Interpretation of the RBI Master Circular Section 7(b): The unauthorized transaction was officially reported to Axis Bank 35 minutes after it occurred. In their final written response, Axis Bank stated that the applicability of post-reporting liability under Section 7(b) is not attracted because the transaction was authenticated prior to reporting, and no subsequent new transactions occurred afterward. Section 7(b) of the RBI Master Circular outlines that a customer bears the loss until the unauthorized transaction is reported to the bank, and any loss occurring after the reporting shall be borne by the bank. At the time of my report (35 minutes post-transaction), the funds were authenticated but had not yet undergone final settlement with the merchant. I am requesting the administrative authority to evaluate whether the bank's process of allowing the transaction to settle after the fraud was reported constitutes a "loss occurring after the reporting," thereby placing the liability on the bank as per the circular. 2. Accumulation of Penal Charges on Disputed Amount: Due to the substantial financial impact of this unauthorized debit, I have been unable to clear the disputed principal amount of INR 1,05,766. Consequently, while the cybercrime investigation is active and the principal remains under formal dispute, the bank’s automated systems are continually levying late payment fees, finance charges, and penal interest on the account. I respectfully request an administrative review to determine if these compounding charges should be waived, given that they stem directly from a reported fraudulent transaction under active investigation. Relief Sought: I respectfully request the Consumer Helpline to facilitate a review with Axis Bank for the following: An evaluation of the timeline of the transaction settlement versus the reporting time, and a reversal of the principal amount of INR 1,05,766 if the post-reporting settlement falls under the liability mandate of Section 7(b). A reversal of all late payment fees, finance charges, and penal interest levied on the credit card account since January 21, 2026, due to the ongoing dispute. A directive to the bank to ensure no adverse reporting is submitted to CIBIL regarding the non-payment of these specific disputed charges while the matter is being resolved.

This is with reference to your complaint raised on National Consumer Helpline (NCH) Portal, in relation to credit card XXXXX7619. Please accept our sincere apology for the inconvenience caused to you. The reference number for the interaction is 9422255 (NCH Portal) and 260601448730 (with the Bank). At the outset, please accept our sincere gratitude for the time taken and effort made by you in sharing your concerns with us. With reference to your complaint, we understand that your query pertains to certain disputed e-commerce transactions reflected in your credit card statement. As per our records, the mentioned transactions (Amazon Seller Services amounting to ₹1240 and ₹87125) were processed through a secure payment channel using a One-Time Password (OTP) sent to your registered mobile number. Such transactions can only be completed when the required authentication details, which are confidential and known only to the cardholder, are entered. We would like to highlight that customers are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of their card details, passwords, and OTPs. As per the applicable terms and conditions, the Bank shall not be held liable for any loss arising out of sharing such sensitive information with third parties. Further, as the transactions have been authenticated and processed securely, the Bank will not be able to take this matter forward as a dispute. Accordingly, the disputed amount, along with any applicable charges, would be payable by the cardholder. We kindly request you to clear the outstanding dues at the earliest to avoid additional financial charges. However, if you suspect any fraudulent activity, we recommend that you lodge a complaint with the Police/Cyber Crime authorities. Please be assured that the Bank will extend full cooperation and provide necessary details to the investigating authorities, as required. We would also like to reiterate that Axis Bank continuously undertakes customer awareness initiatives and advises all customers to never share their card details, OTPs, or banking credentials with anyone. The Bank never requests such information through calls, messages, or emails. The Bank’s stance in the matter has been reviewed and approved by the Bank's Internal Ombudsman.
